

2013 SHREI SYMPOSIUM

HUMAN RIGHTS EDUCATION IN THE COMMUNITY COLLEGE CLASSROOM

A SYMPOSIUM FOR COMMUNITY COLLEGE EDUCATORS INTERESTED IN INCORPORATING HUMAN RIGHTS INTO THEIR CURRICULA

JUNE 8, 2013
9:00 AM – 5:00 PM
Stanford University

Organized by the Stanford Human Rights Education Initiative (SHREI), this day-long symposium will discuss and share ideas about teaching human rights in a wide range of world areas, academic disciplines, and classroom settings. This is the third event in a four-year collaborative effort to encourage the teaching of human rights in California community colleges. Participants are eligible to apply for year-long Human Rights Educator Fellowships. Details about the 2013-14 fellowship and other opportunities at Stanford will be available at the symposium.

Sponsored by SHREI, the Division of International, Comparative and Area Studies, the Stanford Program on International and Cross-Cultural Education, and the Program on Human Rights, with major funding provided by U.S. Department of Education Title VI

Attendance at the symposium is by application only, available at shrei.stanford.edu.
